I. By way of introduction

Actors from the civil society, political parties and groups, the de facto government, led by Mr. Ariel Henry, and the remaining third of the Senate, designating its president, Mr. Joseph Lambert, as President of the transition, all proposed a document to resolve the crisis. However, they fail to come together to make a single proposal, although the positions converge on the issues to be addressed during the transitional period.

Engaged as an independent facilitator since last March in the search for an agreement between the actors, N ap # Mache Pou La Vi (Walk for Life) proposed on Thursday September 2 the creation of an Inclusive Working Group (CTI) made up of six (6) personalities: one (1) representative of the National Memorandum of Understanding (PEN); one (1) representative of the August 30 agreement; one (1) representative of the remaining third of the Senate; one (1) representative of the de facto Prime Minister; one (1) representative of the non-signatories; one (1) representative of N ap #Mache Pou Lavi. Three entities have already expressed their interest in the process. Within eight (8) days at most, the Inclusive Working Group (ITC) must reach the one-stop deal the country so badly needs. This work could be carried out, by consensus, under the gaze of three personalities chosen from the press, the Federation of Haitian Bars and the Louis Joseph Janvier Chair.

N ap # Mache Pou La Vi produces this document entitled “Comparative analysis of proposals for ending the crisis and prospects for a unique proposal.” It presents a summary of the proposals in three axes: Politics; Economy; Justice and Social Security, their convergence and divergence. It suggests what the actors should focus on. However, to get there, they must be in good faith and willing to make sacrifices necessary to get the country out of the deadlock.
